SECONDARY ADDRESSEE DESIGNATION

This notice is to advise you that you have the right to designate a secondary addressee on your insurance policy. This option is available to protect you from an unintended lapse of your coverage. In the event you are unable to make your premium payment, the secondary addressee will receive a courtesy copy of any lapse notices that may be sent to you in the future.

The designation of a secondary addressee to receive these courtesy notifications does not create a liability on the designated party to pay any premiums.

If you do not wish to designate a secondary addressee, no action is necessary from you. However, if you believe designating a secondary addressee would be beneficial, please complete the lower portion of this form and return it to Meyer and Associates. Please keep a copy of the completed form, as it is part of the certificate.

If you have any questions regarding this form or if you would like to remove or replace a designation, please contact Meyer and Associates.
